Welling News

(From our own correspondent)
The farmers with beets in the ground when the storm came have been ploughing around in snow and water and by the end of the week they expect to have them all up. The crop shortage is over and the men at the Anderson and Welling dumps are loading the piles in the cars.
Edward Gunning and Frank Seward left last week for Technical School at Calgary.
The school Halloween party was a decided success. The school house was decorated in orange and black and cats, bats and witches. All the school children took part on the program. Miss Gennet Bullock acted as witch and gave all the children their fortune that was written on a paper. After the program they all enjoyed nuts, candy and apples.
Many from here attended the Halloween dance in Raymond Thursday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Amasa Bullock Jr. were visitors here Thursday afternoon. Miss Julia Cox spent several days of last week in Lethbridge visiting with relatives Mr. and Mrs. Evans Stringham.
Mrs. James Thompson returned home from Diamond City Saturday. She has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Smith.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomson motored to Cardston Monday via Lethbridge and Macleod on account of bad roads.
Several women from here attended a shower held for Miss Pearl McMullin at the home of Mrs. Wm. Wilde Raymond. Alma Bullock moved a small house to town last week where he will live while building him a new home in Raymond.
The Erickson children, Andrew, Ruth and Marie left school last Friday and will attend the Community School during the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Erickson and family will occupy George Laycock's home for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. George Laycock are living in Lethbridge for the winter.

ALBERTA HIGHWAYS ARE MARKED BY ALBERTA MOTOR ASSOCIATION

Marking of two thousand miles of automobile roads north of Red Deer has been undertaken by the northern division of the Alberta Motor Association. The southern branch has been working for some time on proper marking of highways in that part of the province, so that next season, with its increased car traffic, should see a large percentage of the main and secondary highways of this province fully marked, something that will be of lasting credit to the Alberta Motor Association.

In the north, much good work has been done by J. A. McNeill, manager of the northern division of the Alberta Motor Association. There has been complete marking of the highway from Edmonton to Viking, Wainwright, Chinle, south to the Green Trail north of Hyster. Every turn is plainly marked R or L as well as every cross-road being marked with a straight ahead sign. The green highway from Wetaskiwin to Macleod has been completed as well as the Black Trail from Edmonton to Athabasca.

Fred R. Brason has been directing the work of road marking in southern Alberta and splendid results have been obtained there thus far. It is realized that a large percentage of Alberta's tourist traffic enters from the Montana gateways, as well as over the Banff-Windermere trail, so that adequate marking of roads in that part of the province is a primary requisite.

TOOL BUILDERS BAN DRINKING AT CONVENTION

Set Precedent for Large Trade Gatherings—Say Wet Appeal Is Past

Cleveland, Ohio—An example for large trade conventions which analog cities of the United States, was set by the National Machine Tool Builders' Association when it officially banned the drinking of intoxicating liquors by delegates and representatives in attendance at its annual meeting here.

Officials believe they established a precedent for trade gatherings when, preceding the convention, a notice went forth to the industry that liquor should be outlawed during the assembly. E. F. Dubrul, general manager of the association mailed copies or resolutions adopted by the association to all companies likely to send representatives to the meeting asking them to refrain from drinking during the convention. The letter announced that any violation would result in the offending parties being excluded.

"The greatest companies in the country know that excessive entertaining is not good merehandising," Mr. Dubrul explained. "The National Tool Builders has voted unanimously to discourage the too long current seller-entertain-buyer feature that has interfered with the serious purposes of expositions.

Copies of our resolutions were sent to scores of the largest business concerns and trade associations in the country and the response is without exception encouraging. All violators of our policy will be excluded from

News Notes

The coal business has been good the past two weeks.

A. E. Hancock and wife were visitors in Raymond on Sunday last.

Constable Ellis of Magrath was here this week.

The Gravel Drive starts Nov. 13th. Be a good citizen and help out this worthy cause.

The annual "Radio fever" is having its annual run and the fatalities are many.

A. E. Hancock has secured the agency for the "Meadows" Washing Machine. See his ad.

Monday Nov. 9th. Armistice and Thanksgiving Day and a Statutory Holiday. All business houses will be closed.

Don't forget the Gravel Drive, starting Wed., Nov. 13th. Turn out and to your bit for better roads in Raymond.

The people of the O. K. district met in the School House Wednesday evening in a farewell party for Howard Rasmussen who is leaving soon for a mission.

A good crowd was present from Raymond, Magrath and other points and after a splendid program the rest of the evening was spent in dancing. Howard leaves on Nov. 25th for Salt Lake City.

Dean Rolison, Welburn VanOrman and G. Woolley have been doing their stuff at the Calgary Normal School in Basketball and will be on the regular lineup of the School this winter. Dean is going to play centre. DeRamus Choon of Leavitt and Stuart Shields, Lethbridge are also on the regular lineup so that the south is well represented. The team captained by Welburn VanOrman won the school championship with five straight victories.

our convention entirely. Why should we permit a misguided jamboree spirit of a few salesmen to impede the serious purposes of such an industrial and mechanical event?"

About 10,000 persons are expected to visit the convention and exposition. Machines worth $5,000,000 have been set up in the Cleveland Public Auditorium. A congress of machine tool manufacturers and others allied with the industry is scheduled simultaneously with the exposition.—Christian Science Monitor.

Maude Henderson Players Here

Raymond audiences were highly entertained the first three days of this week when the Maude Henderson Players were here. This company needs no boosting on our part as they have maintained a high type of performance for many years past, and Miss Henderson and the Gray brothers "Percy and Eddie" have a wide circle of personal friends in Raymond.

The three plays this season were thoroughly enjoyed by the audiences. "The Love Nest" on Monday evening furnished entertainment and laughter every turn, carried a good plot and a story that could happen to any family in any community.

"The Sign on the Door" on Tuesday evening was melo-drama, good characterization, a deep plot, and the sower, reaping what he had sown. On Wednesday evening, "New Toys" was greeted very enthusiastically by the audience, as it portrayed to a degree the restless spirit of the present age. The spirit of dissatisfaction on the part of the women to be a good wife and homemaker, and the desire to gratify her individual ambitions. This of course brought its round of misunderstandings, comic situations and laughs. This is the first showing of "New Toys" on such circuits as these and was fully appreciated.

Nor, will we forget the musicians, Mr. Drager on piano, and Mr. Eberback on the drums and xylophone. Certainly made the entertainments enjoyable and to most of those present they were all too brief.

Raymond audiences will look forward with keen anticipation to the return of the Maude Henderson players next year, with the assurance that the usual high type of production will still be maintained.

Local Happenings

There was no school on Thursday and Friday and most of the teachers were attending Convention at Lethbridge.

Frank R. Sykes and Geo. W. Alvin, organizers of Motorcade Canada, Ltd., Vancouver, B. C., were in Raymond Tuesday. They are organizing Southern Alberta with offices at Lethbridge.

The Town Council met on Monday evening to consider the bids that had been received on the cement storage tank and the proposed Town Hall. Due to the fact that the season was late and the bids considered too high the matter was postponed for the time being.

POPPIES AND MAPLES

(Herbert Kersten)
Copyright

Sleep softly, sleep!—Hush, hush!
Hush, hush,
And dream sweet dreams of beautiful Canada,
Dear sons of ours, who with the victories
Died worthy sons of Mother Canada!

The poppies glow; they glow in pride
Remembering the sacrifice you gave!
Two minutes silence, kept Dominion wide,
Is but small tribute to our soldier's brave!

The poppies bloom in Flanders fields,
Are they an emblem of the blood, that's shed,
The fresh young blood on Flanders' served fields,
Of our own boys, the poppies glowing red?

They rest in graves beyond the sea,
The boys we loved, our glorious soldier dead,
But still they live, will live in memory,
While poppies glow and maples flaming red.

GIVE THE BABY A CHANCE

(By Edna Kells)

Babies are the first concern of public health work the world over. Give the babies the right start in life, and many of the ills from which humanity suffers in adult years will disappear. Consequently Child Welfare Clinics are recognized as an important branch of public health work, and those that have been operating in Alberta have won the good will of many thousands of mothers.

Four nurses were engaged in this work in Alberta during the past summer. They held 121 clinics, and examined 2566 children, of these, 1095 were babies and 1468 children of pre-school age. Only 772 of this number were found free from defects! Surely there is need of such clinics to check up conditions.

The nurses in charge of the clinics were Miss Blanche Emerson, Miss E. M. Davidson, Miss C. Lonsdale, and Miss Black.

Years of experience, together with special training have made the clinic nurses expert at this work which is largely educational. It is their aim to bring about an era of better babies and healthier school children.

This year the work extended from Jolita, on the C. P. R. near the boundary line to Berwyn, on the Northern Alberta railway in the Peace River country. A local organization assumes the responsibility of negotiating with the Department of Public Health for a visit from the nurses and makes the local arrangements. The nurse carries her equipment with her and on her arrival, quickly transforms the hall, school, or church to suit her need. Sometimes the nurses travel in pairs enabling them to handle the clinic with greater ease. At such times an nurse takes the name and age of the child, nationality of the parents, weighs and measures the child and turn him over, with her findings, to the examining nurse. She in turn looks for such defects as children of this age are susceptible to, such as malnutrition, defective teeth, infected tonsils, fallen arches, ruptures, and eye trouble. If she finds any, she advises the course she should pursue, which frequently involves consultation with the family physician.

Diets are considered of the utmost importance, and when breast feeding is impossible the nurse urges mothers to feed their children milk a product of the farm. Most mothers are taking a keen interest in diets and many are following scientific method of feeding and have their children well trained in the matter of sleeping. Diet slips showing the proper food for children of different ages are given out and these are supplemented by special advice for individual cases. Proper posture, breathing exercises, plenty of fresh air, and sun bath are recommended as a means to better health.

It was a revelation to the visitors to note the difference between children in perfect health and those suffering from some minor ailment. The former sleep well, eat their food with out question, are good natured and give little trouble. The latter are inclined to be nervous or peevish, pick at their food, sleep irregularly, are underweight, and give their mothers trouble and anxiety.

At one clinic held this summer in a small town, though harvest was at its height fifty children were brought for examination, and this was not considered an unusually large clinic. Of the fifty twenty four were free from defect. It is apparent that nationality has something to do with the health of the children. Children of Nordic extraction, the nurses find are usually more placid larger and healthier than those of many other races. The prosperity or adversity of the district usually is reflected in the children also, though it is not always the most prosperous districts that shows the least malnutrition among the children.

Willard Mack returns to the field of acting in his own talking picture, "The Voice of the City," after a long absence. Although he had gone with the big judging clubs from Glenwood and Hill Spring. These boys didn't win first prize as was hoped, but they gave a very good account of themselves.

Missing Aviators Turn Up Alive

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY SHIP FLASHES RADIO MESSAGE; HAD BEEN LOST NEARLY TWO MONTHS

(Lethbridge Herald)

Radio reports received at Churchill on Hudson Bay, and at Department of Marine and Fisheries, Ottawa—Dominion Explorers Company later receives confirmation at Winnipeg—McAlpine party must have flown considerably off their course.

Manned on a frozen island in the Arctic ocean, eight newly rescued explorers today waited the arrival of skill-fitted seaplane to carry them south to civilization. After nearly two months of wandering over the island, Col. C. D. H. McAlpine and his seven mates face another month's delay before they can be carried out of the chill north.

Today the elated explorers rested at Cambridge Bay, ice-locked harbor on the south shore of Victoria Island opposite Bathurst Inlet. It was for Bathurst Inlet, that they had set out on September 8, in their two cabin planes from Baker Lake, 290 miles west of Hudson Bay. Weary but happy gaunt but healthy, the eight refugees were building up wasted sinews. Col. McAlpine, party leader, had lost 40 of his 200 pounds.

Confirmation of the rescue of Col. McAlpine and his seven companions, after eight weeks isolation in the Arctic barrens, was received this afternoon by Dominion Explorers at search headquarters here. A message from Phil Fantome, radio operator at the Bathurst Inlet radio station, was as follows:

"Fort James station at GJOA Haven, King William Land, advised me at 10 n.m. mountain time, that McAlpine party arrived safely at Cambridge Bay, across the ice from Dease Point. Fort James will forward me more instructions as soon as possible."

The McAlpine party is safe and well. This is the context of radio reports received in Eastern and Western Canada from a Hudson's Bay Company steamer, the Fort St. James moored in Cambridge Bay, on the south shore of Victoria Island. Victoria Island is directly north of Bathurst Inlet with in the Arctic circle.

News Notes

Prize Fight Opera Premiere

When the English Music and Folk Dance Festival is held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, from November 13 to 18, the spot light will be turned on the first performance on this continent on November 15 of "Hugh the Drover" opera by Dr. Ralph Vaughan Williams, one of the greatest of modern composers. Written around early 19th century scenes in an English village, the costumes are picturesque and the setting is peculiarly suited to the folk music which inspired the composer. The unique feature of the opera is the great prize fight between the hero and the villain, the stakes being the hand of the heroine. This is one of the most realistic scenes ever put on any stage, and is a fight from start to knock-out. The cries of the crowd, the staccato singing of the principal, the exhortations of the backers of the two men are blended with orchestral effects in an ensemble that is a tour de force of modern musical representation, leaving the audience breathless and as excited as if they were spectators gathered around the ring, in one of the most remarkable scenes ever seen on the theatre. The part of Hugh is to be played by Allan Jones, a brilliant tenor of Welsh extraction, who has been starring in the Deauville Opera and the Opera Comique of Paris. Cut shows grouping of the players just before commencement of the fight, with Hugh in the centre and his opponent striped for action at left. Inset shows Allan Jones.

ARMISTICE DAY

Eleven years next Monday at 11 a. m. the order to "Cease Fire" was sent to the fighting forces in Flanders fields. Imagine the feeling that surged through the long line of soldiers as the barrage of the heavy artillery the scream of sharpshooters the bursting of bombs and the rat-a-tat of rifle and machine gun fire began to diminish and the thunderous roar that had continued almost incessantly for over four years gave way to a great quiet, followed soon by outbursts of joy and thanksgiving from hundreds of thousands of hearts when it became known that peace had been made and active warfare was to cease. Imagine the reaction after becoming so accustomed to this noise that one would wake from sleep when it ceased, and then to have this replaced by days and nights of quiet.

What could be more fitting than the commemoration of Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day in one. What could form a greater theme for heart felt thanksgiving than the cessation of a warfare that had the world involved and was wasting away the nations. And so, on Monday next we will have an opportunity of showing our gratitude for our many and bountiful blessings.

This has been a wonderful year. A year of bounteous crops and golden harvests. A year crowned with pleasant and beautiful weather and perfect health for most of us. Should not our hearts now overflow with Thanksgiving and praise for Him who doeth all things well and whose hand is externally extended for good.

Shame be upon us if we fail to acknowledge our blessings, and amongst others gratitude for the peace and quite we enjoy and a tribute of silence voluntarily and whole heartedly in remembrance of those who sleep in Flanders fields as the price that had to be paid and the thousands of others, even amongst us, who were ready to buy this peace for us at any price.

U. F. W. A. Meeting

The U. F. W. A. held their regular meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Fern King. Mr. John H. Blackmore occupied the time with a comprehensive address on "Educational Conditions in Alberta." Taking as a basis the new act prepared by Perrin Baker, minister of Education, Mr. Blackmore proved conclusively the need of a change in the educational system of the province. He then took the proposed change section by section pointed out its advantages or disadvantages and in so doing showed that by its acceptance the province would be more uniformly performing its duty to the children and there would be an equal distribution of taxes. The help new teachers would receive from the proposed appointment of competent supervisors was discussed and Mr. Blackmore emphasized the fact that the teacher is "the keystone in the educational arch." The women present felt that a most profitable hour had been spent and the only lamentable fact was that there were not more women at the meeting.

A delightful Irish reading contributed by Miss Theima Smith completed the program.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Snow, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Erickson and Mrs. Strong.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Selva Booth Ross. A paper on "Health" by Mrs. Phoebe Evans and the convenors report on "Peace and Arbitration" by Mrs. Emma Nelson will be given and the balance of the time devoted to reorganization. Every one who is interested in U. F. W. A. work is urged to join before the next meeting as only paid up members are eligible to vote. Any woman who is interested in any phase of farm work may become a member.

R. S. A. NOTES

The Agricultural School is now going as of old with the classes full to overflowing. The enrollment has surpassed all expectations and up to the present numbers 81 with prospect of at least nine or ten more. This number exceeds our last year enrollment by over 25 p.e. When it is taken into consideration that we have been under staffed all summer and sickness has been general among the permanent members our enrollment is very good.

Since the Raymond school re-opened in 1926 the average maximum attendance has been 85.5. This is indeed encouraging as this large enrollment does not include any British boys that so enlarged the other schools. Our attendance of 85.5 only places us third among the schools but had we dormitory facilities we feel that our average attendance would be augmented to at least 125. So is it any wonder that the people of the district served by the Raymond school are optimistic and feel that they are entitled to a permanent school with full dormitory and gymnasium accommodations?

Last Saturday evening the staff of the school entertained the students at a little party in the school assembly hall. The evening was devoted to games, songs etc, after which a splendid lunch was served. Everybody had a good time and felt that there were no more strangers remaining in the school.

Donald Douglas supervisor of the provincial government farms was a Thursday visitor.

Chas. O. Asplund returned from Edmonton on Sunday where he had been participating in Swine Club work. Mr. Asplund's swine club from Hillspring and Glenwood made a very creditable showing.

We are very pleased to report that the R. S. A. basketballers are now engaged in practice. There are very bright prospects this year and it is felt that one of the best teams ever developed by this school will be fielded this year.

E. A. Greenwood was a passenger on Monday's train to Lethbridge.

Monday is Thanksgiving and Armistice Day and a Statutory holiday.

A baby girl was born on Wednesday this week to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Peterson.

Mrs. Wm. Anderson returned from Cardston on Monday after a visit with her parents and other relatives there.

Mrs. Gordon Brewerton came from Cardston on Monday for a few days visit with her mother and other relatives here.

Hill Spring, Woolford, Glenwood, and nearly all Southern Alberta towns are represented in the enrolment at the Raymond School of Agriculture.

The Opening Dance at the Raymond A. C. will be held on Saturday evening, Nov. 16th and admission will be by invitation.

The prospects for the Raymond School of Agriculture are very good for the present year. The enrollment to date is larger than last year by quite a few.

The life of President Brigham Young was the subject at the M. I. A. Conjoint Meeting on Sunday evening in both wards. The subject was exceedingly interesting and the speakers found a wealth of material to offer regarding the life and labors of this great colonizer and empire builder.

A very enjoyable luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Ray Knight on Thursday at 1:30 p.m. the following invited guests being present: Mesdames O. H. Snow, A. W. Kirkham, J. T. Heninger, J. Costley, D. H. Kinsey, T. J. O'Brien, T. Whitbeck, I. B. Roberts, A. Jensen, E. Scoville, W. Milner, S. Anderson, H. S. Allen and Chas. McCarthy. Mr. Knight returned from New York while the party was in progress and the ladies gave him a real surprise when he stepped into the room, after which he entertained them for half an hour or so with an interesting report of the rodeo at Madison Square Gardens, New York where he officiated as judge. He also had a number of pictures, one of which showed rodeo officials, including Mr. Knight, photographed with the Mayor of New York.

NATIONAL STOCK SHOW FEATURES FARM YOUTH

The story of what thousands of boys and girls of the farms of America are doing towards assuring a future "farm relief" will be vividly enacted on the occasion of the 30th International Live Stock Exposition to be held at the Chicago Stock Yard November 30 to December 7.

According to E. H. Heide, secretary manager of the Show, it was in order to particularly recognize the best efforts of farm boys and girls throughout the land, who are engaged in worthwhile projects in farming and homemaking that the International expanded to include a young people's department, in itself an exposition of large scale.

YOUTHS' WORK REWARDED

This is the National Boys' and Girls Club Congress, which each year draws to it some 1200 selected young men and women from the farm a chosen lot from approximately 750,000 youths and girls the country over who are turning their efforts to worthwhile projects and pursuits to the benefit of themselves, their home farms, and their communities.

Popular opinion places the most humanizing story of the exposition about "the boy and his calf." Although the International is select, though its competitions are still the day has been seen when a lad of 12 years could bring forth a steer calf that had been bred and raised on his father's farm, and with him surpass the art of the professional feeder and the skill of the seasoned showman.

Walter Biggar, the Scotch judge who placed the fat classes at the 1929 exposition, and who is now on his way to America to judge the 1929 Show, found a White-face yearling steer and his young master an undefeatable pair among the many professional contenders for the championship.

YOUNGSTERS IN SPOTLIGHT
Thus at the last International was Youth crowned King. As a result, the management finds that the attentions of the agricultural world are already focusing upon the coming Junior contests of the show, in anticipation of a possible repetition of last year's miraculous occurrence, which is still material for the sages exchanged among livestock showing participants and fans the country over.

The customers flocked to his two-by-four, and soon he had to hustle for a regular store. Up on the square where the people pass, he gobbled up a corner that was all plate glass. He fixed up the windows with the best that he had, and told them all about it, in a half page ad.

He soon had 'em coming and he never, never quit, and he didn't cut down his ads. one fit. And he's kept things humming in the town ever since and everyone calls him the merchant prince.

Some say it's luck, but that's all bunk—why, he was doing business when the times were punk!

People have to purchase and Geezer was wise—for he knew the way to get 'em was to advertise.
